

SAVINGS DEPOSITS HELD AT POST OFFICE

Thirty Foreigners Buy Money Orders Payable to Themselves, Good For One Year.

Whether the national solons will have it or no, the postal service, in this neck of the woods at least, has by the volition of individuals themselves been converted into a sort of postal savings bank, and over $30,000, according to Postmaster A. L. Thomas, stands in the "bank" to the credit of depositors. The system has not been inaugurated by Americans, but by foreigners who save their money and have an abiding faith in the integrity of Uncle Sam. These foreigners have been accustomed in their own lands to depositing their money in the savings banks, which is an almost universal practice in European countries, and coming to this country, they still have faith in the government and take in their wages for deposit with the postmaster.

PRINCIPAL SAFE—NO INTEREST

The way they do it is this: An application for a money order, made payable to themselves, is made by those wishing to deposit money, and in due time, when they wish to take their money out of the order is presented at the money order window. Only last week $11,000 was drawn out of the post-office by one person, and others have large amounts ready for withdrawal. One man, one of the few who are lured from honoring an order issued by itself, and the matter of obtaining their money in such an event must be taken up with the government at Washington. The money is safe, however, and can always be secured from the Washington authorities. Thus the foreigner who saves his earnings with intention to return to his native land and who knows that nothing about the money order is to be lost, and the fact that he is receiving no interest on his savings do not worry him in the least.

PAYS FOR PRIVILEGE

The depositor receives no interest on his money thus placed with the government; in fact, he must pay for the privilege of letting Uncle Sam handle his money, the fee for the purchase of money orders being 30 cents per $100, the order being good for one year. But the chief consideration of the foreigner is always the safety of his money, and the minor expense of caring for it and the fact that he is receiving no interest on his savings do not worry him in the least.

Smith, who has been in charge of the matter, and Wood have been appointed a committee to select a proper site for the launching of the machine. The dredge was built by the Marion Steam Construction Co., of Marion, Ohio, at a cost of $7,500 F. O. B. Salt Lake City.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE CALLS FOR GENTLE TREATMENT

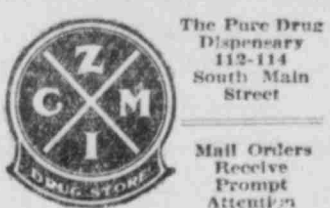

"Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.

Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna can hope to get its beneficial effects, and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy, the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package, and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is called for, is always resented by a transfer of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell false brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere; one size only. Regular price 50 cents per bottle. Get a bottle today to have in the house when needed.

STILL IN SHOW BUSINESS.

Louis W. Buckley of the A. Y. P. Arrives with a Unique Attraction.

Louis W. Buckley, director of amusements and ceremonies at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle last summer, is in town on his way around the world with the Visayan twins which will be one of the big features at a local resort this week.

Mr. Buckley lost no time looking up W. H. Rowe and others connected with the Utah exhibit last year at Seattle and also called upon Prof. Stephens, J. J. McClellan and others who were with the choir.

When he learned that the choir was proposing to take a trip to Wales next year to attend the national Elateddoff he was more than enthusiastic. "The 'great' he said, 'that attraction would be a winner anywhere, and I should say that if the management chartered a steamer and loaded it up with Utah and Idaho excursionists, and hit up the land in question we should be able to make a fortune out of it. I would ask nothing better than to handle that attraction. It was the biggest thing we had at the fair."

CONTESTANTS LOSE.

Napoleon Coker and Charles Ward Still Hold Their Homesteads.

The local United States land office has received notice of the granting by the secretary of the interior of a portion of sections 4 and 5, township 8 south, range 1 west to Napoleon Coker and Charles Ward, whose claims were contested by Dennis Davis and Aaron T. May. The land was withdrawn under an order effective April 11, 1907, and of record was made Oct. 2, 1909, in which the land was thrown open to settlement Jan. 4, 1910, and to entry by the land office. The claim of Coker and Ward were allowed on the ground that Davis and Clayton had never been settled on and to whom the government had no title, and when they discovered this fact settled upon other ground to which other persons had prior claims.

ALFRED BEST RUMORS.

Family Think Statements are Overdrawn.

Frederick Best, brother of Alfred Best, the Utah tenor, now in Berlin, and the Dean family with whom the singer is connected by marriage, are inclined to think the reports of his illness are very much exaggerated. An account, published in a local paper, intimates that Mr. Best's throat is permanently affected, and that he may give up his career and return home. Mrs. Dean stated that a letter from Mr. Best received today, merely says he has come to his throat is permanently affected, but does not intimate that his trouble is so serious. Frederick Best says he had a letter from his brother dated May 4, in which no mention of any trouble was made.

The many friends here of Mr. Best, who have followed his promising career with interest, will hope the reports may prove unfounded.

CANYON RESORT MEN TRY TO DODGE LAW

Dunkery and Domm Deposit Each a Check of $300 With Sheriff This Morning.

After admitting that one of the attendants last Sunday did not know the difference between beer and baretts and therefore passed the former over the bar without a license to do so, William Dunkery and Matt Domm who run separate refreshment establishments at the entrance to Emigration canyon under leases from the Wagner Brewing company, each to save himself, deposited with the sheriff's office a check for $300 in the hope of staving off prosecution and getting a liquor license for the current quarter. The matter is now in the hands of the county attorney who will render a decision on the law of the point.

G. A. R. Veterans Attend Memorial Exercises in Public Schools.

Children of the public schools yesterday paid their tribute to the memory of the veterans of the war in the school observance of Memorial day. In all of the public schools appropriate exercises were held yesterday afternoon, in which members of the G. A. R. participated. Intermingled with the recital of tales of the heroic deeds of the soldiers fighting for his country, the children and pupils themselves took part in the singing of patriotic hymns and songs. Under the direction of the department of Utah of the G. A. R. speakers were assigned to the various schools as follows: Jefferson school, N. D. Corser; Training school, Col. M. M. Kallgren; Washelli school, N. Bishop; Jackson school, P. B. Emerson; Emerson school, W. C. Veazie; Waterloo school, E. W. Talbot; Lowell school, H. S. Rawlins; Lincoln school, H. S. Rawlins; Lincoln school, W. C. Veazie; Sumner school, Thomas Harris.

At the Jefferson school the exercises were of a more elaborate nature than in the other schools for the reason that this school was the recipient of an American flag presented by the G. A. R. Howard post, G. A. R. The presentation was made by N. D. Corser, patriotic instructor of the school. The members of the Howard post attended the exercises at the Jefferson school in a body.

HELP FOR BISHOP TUTTLE.

The many Salt Lake friends and admirers of Bishop Tuttle of the Episcopal church in America are gratified to learn that the venerable prelate has been accorded the assistance of a bishop coadjutor. Three-quarters of his ecclesiastical labors are given to the administration of the church at large, as he is practically the bishop of the American Episcopal church. Several attempts have in the past been made to create the actual office of archbishop in this country, and while it is to be regretted that such a step has not yet been taken, so far so good.

PEACH CROP FIGURES SIXTY-FIVE PER CENT

Damage Done by April Frost Was Serious but Spotty—Average Yield Not Bad.

Shortly after the heavy frost which fell over the State of Utah last April, when many made predictions that almost the entire state crop of peaches, apricots and early cherries would be a total loss, C. Hickenlooper, the well known fruit man of Weber county, somewhat stemmed the tide of lost hope and discouragement by making the cheering prediction that with peaches, for instance, he estimated there would be at least a 45 per cent crop throughout the state.

Mr. Hickenlooper was in Salt Lake Friday, and when asked how his present prospects for the peach crop for the state, he said: "The present indications seem to show that I was not far wrong when I made the prediction of a 45 per cent peach crop for the state. But it is even now a difficult matter to make an accurate estimate even though we know just what the trees hold and about what they will yield, for the reason that here you find an orchard which was untouched by the frosts, while one lying almost along side of it perhaps has been nearly ruined. And that condition exists as to orchards."

"Up in Boxelder county, particularly around Brigham city, there will be a full crop of peaches. Down in Utah county, it goes throughout the state; but my estimate of a 45 per cent crop will still hold good in my opinion."
